

River canyon through area of rock and clay soil, in which latter the stream at up to 4,5 m/s creates severe erosion and risk for land slides. As part of a geotechnical and aesthetical project the Trondheim city council choose soil bio engineering measurements to optimise technical, environmental, aesthetical and economical parameters.

